

2008 REMINGTON COLLEGE – MEMPHIS CAMPUS CRIME & SECURITY REPORT

Introduction

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, codified at 20 U.S.C. § 1092(f) as a part of the Higher Education Act of 1965, is a federal law that requires colleges and universities to disclose certain timely and annual information about campus crime and security policies. All public and private post-secondary educational institutions participating in federal student aid programs are subject to the Act.

The Clery Act requires colleges and universities to publish an annual report every year by October 1st that contains three years worth of crime statistics and certain security policy statements, including sexual assault policies, which assure basic victims' rights, the law enforcement authority of campus security, and where the students should go to report crimes.

The complete text of the Clery Act along with the implementing regulations published by the U.S. Department of Education is available at the Security On Campus, Inc. website located at www.securityoncampus.org.

Reporting Crime and Other Emergencies on Campus

Remington College – Memphis Campus is committed to providing an environment that provides security for persons and property without the need for unduly burdensome policies and practices. All members of the Remington College – Memphis Campus community are expected to familiarize themselves with Campus security policies and procedures, adhere to these policies and procedures, and immediately report violations.

The Campus President is responsible for determining the need for and implementing timely campus notification. The bulletins will allow members of the Campus community to know what concerns currently exist so they can better protect themselves.

Door and security hardware operating deficiencies should also be reported to the Campus President. Parking lots and areas are actively patrolled by Campus security.

Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs

All students are required to attend the Campus's Orientation at which time they are cautioned to avoid loss of property and/or injury to self or others by reading and observing the safety and Campus security information that is posted in the student lounge, the corridor bulletin boards, as well as disseminated at Orientation or provided in the Financial Aid packet.

In addition to the Annual Campus Security Report which is made available in the Registrar's office and the Director of Education's Office, Remington College – Memphis Campus makes literature available that is provided by community and government agencies which describes various programs and help numbers for personal safety, health, and emergency counseling. Sexual assault is not only a criminal act of violence, aggression, or coercion against a single individual, but is also an attack on human dignity, a value essential to our Campus community. For these reasons, Remington College – Memphis Campus encourages individuals who believe they have been sexually assaulted to report sexual assault incidents to appropriate Campus and governmental authorities as outlined in the Sexual Harassment policy. If requested by the victim, Remington College – Memphis Campus will reasonably change a victim's academic situation after an alleged sex offense.

Programs to Prevent Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault

Several programs and resources are available to members of the Campus community on the topics of sexual harassment and sexual assault. Programs can be arranged through the Campus President, the Career Services Department, the Memphis Sexual Assault Resource Center at (901) 327-0233, or the YWCA Women's Resource Center at (901) 276-0576. Additionally, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services website (<http://www.4woman.gov/faq/sexualassault.htm>) is a valuable resource for victims and for those who wish to learn about the prevention of sexual assault.

Procedure to Follow if Sexual Assault Occurs:

Whom to Contact: If someone believes they are the victim of a sexual assault the quickest possible way to report it is to contact the Memphis Police Department. A victim should also report the incident directly to the Campus President. A victim of sexual assault may go directly to a hospital and decide at the hospital what other agencies or resources to contact. The Campus President, or any official on campus, will be glad to assist a victim in contacting the proper law enforcement agency.

Preservation of Evidence: After contacting the necessary law enforcement authorities as soon as possible, it is important that a victim of sexual assault does not shower, wash, brush their teeth, or use the restroom, and that they do not wash their clothes or any bedding on which the incident may have occurred. If they do so, important evidence can be lost and/or destroyed.

Notification of Counseling and Assistance: Counseling for victims of sexual harassment or sexual assault can be found through the Campus President, who can direct victims to available services, and through off-campus psychological services provided by local psychologists or community Rape Crisis Centers. Any victim who reports an incident to an on-campus official will be advised of counseling services.

Campus Disciplinary Procedure: If the victim of sexual assault so desires, and all parties involved are members of the Campus community, the incident can be referred to the Campus President, Director of Education, or Corporate Vice President of Human Resources to be investigated and adjudicated under the Remington College Sexual Harassment policy. Sanctions that can be imposed upon a final determination of an incident may range from a reprimand up to and including dismissal from school or termination of employment.

Both the accused and the accuser are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during a disciplinary proceeding. Both participants will be informed of the outcome of any disciplinary proceeding brought alleging a sexual assault.
